Artist Ellen Hallie Schiff Shows Paintings At Design Within Reach Studio in Roslyn

Port Washington resident Ellen Hallie Schiff is showing her large-scale abstract oil paintings at Design Within Reach Studio in Roslyn.

With her gutsy, bravura painting style and bold mark-making, Ellen's paintings re-call the Abstract Expressionists. Also, her "exquisite sense of color" according to noted American Artist Stan Brodsky, adds to the enormous energy and excitement of her work. Her work is influenced by Richard Diebenkorn, Joan Mitchell, Mark Rothko, Egon Schiele and Barnett Newman to name a few.

"I am so excited to have the opportunity to show my artwork in this distinctive and stylish setting. The lines of the furniture pair so well with my energetic style of painting, and the palette of both my work and the furniture studio play off each other beautifully."

work, along with the iconic designs of the furniture, work together seamlessly to evoke a sense of timelessness, style and fun."

Schiff is an award-winning artist with work in collections both in the U.S. and Europe. She works with individuals, interior designers as well as corporations. Ellen is a board member of The Art Guild of Port Washington, located at Elderfields Preserve at 200 Port Washington Blvd., as well as a board member of The Manhasset Art Association.
